The STC Summit Awards

CALL FOR ENTRIES

Rochester Chapter

Have you or your company produced technical communication products that you think are worthy of awards? Would you like your work to be recognized by your peers? This call for entries is your invitation to participate in the Society for Technical Communication (STC) competitions.

Who is eligible?

The STC Summit Awards are open to everyone who produces technical communication. Entrants do not have to be members of STC. You may enter work as an individual or on behalf of a colleague or subordinate.

What can be entered?

Entries must:

- contain sufficient technical, scientific, medical, or similar content to qualify as technical communication
- have been produced or substantially revised within 24 months preceding September 1 of the current year
- have been originally prepared for and accepted for publication by a client, employer, or publisher.

Entries are subject to all restrictions listed in the "General Information and Competition Rules" document.

How are the competitions structured?

STC offers two levels of competition:

- Local and regional competitions
- Society (international) competitions

Local and regional competitions are the first level of competition and are sponsored by single or multiple chapters or special interest groups.

The Society (international) competitions are the final level of competition. Only winners of the Distinguished and Excellence in Technical Communication at the local or regional level are eligible for the Society competition. Eligible entrants will be notified regarding the next steps.

What awards are given?

Three levels of recognition are awarded in each competition category. These awards, in descending order, are:

- Distinguished Technical Communication (DTC)
- Excellence
- Merit

One Best of Show award is presented for each of the four divisions.

- Informational Materials
- Instructional Materials
- Promotional Materials
- User Support Materials
